Answers Filed In Grain Case; Hearing Slated

Injunction Action
Will Get Court
Airing on Oct. 31

County Auditor Harry Allen and County Treasurer Charles A. Fabb have filed answers to the petition of Attorney Rollo Marchant and Glenn Smith seeking to block collection of the state-imposed tax on wheat stored under government contract. Common Pleas Judge John P. Case Thursday ordered the action to be heard on its merits at 10 a.m. Oct. 31.

In their joint petition, filed Oct. 6, Marchant and Smith, asked for a temporary injunction to halt the collection of the tax, a declaratory judgement to determine ownership of the wheat and a permanent injunction after the case is heard on its merits. The court granted the temporary injunction.

Marchant and Smith contended in their petition that when they delivered wheat to the elevator and disposed of it under contract to the federal Commodity Credit Corp., they no longer had any control over it or knew where it was stored and asked the court to declare they were not the owners of it on the tax-listing days of 1953, 1954 and 1955.

The personal property tax on the wheat was assessed by the state Department of Taxation.

FEW FARMERS in Fayette County had paid the tax, it previously had been brought out during the long controversy between county and state taxing authorities. The farmers insisted that when they delivered their wheat under government contract they treated it as a sale and paid income tax on the money they received and, therefore, did not own it as tax listing time.

The injunction suit by Marchant and Smith made the county auditor and treasurer defendants in the action.

The answers filed by Allen and Fabb are brief. In substance they concurred with the allegations in the injunction petition and ask the court to determine ownership of the wheat.

Inasmuch as the tax was assessed by the Ohio Department of Taxation, Judge Case directed that a copy of the entry setting the trial date, Oct. 31, be mailed to the state's attorney general.

Whether the state will oppose the injunction action and, if so, to what degree remains conjectural.

If it is opposed and if the court denies the permanent injunction, indications are that the case will be carried on to a higher court, for the Fayette County Farm Bureau board of directors not only have taken a stand against the tax, but also have appropriated money to retain an attorney to "carry it to the Supreme Court if necessary."

Assign Judge To Demurrer

Radcliff To Hear
Hilty Case Pleading

JUDGE WILLIAM D. RADCLIFF of Pickaway County Common Pleas Court has been assigned to hear the demurrer of County School Superintendent W. J. Hilty to the suit brought against him, Oct. 8, based on a state examiner's report.

Hilty, defendant in a $3,564 recovery action filed by Prosecutor John S. Bath on behalf of the Fayette County Board of Education, claimed in his demurrer that the facts contained in the petition do not constitute a cause of action. The examiner's report had cited certain payments by the county board to the superintendent as not properly supported by receipts.

Accompanying the demurrer was an affidavit, signed by the five members of the county board, which stated that, with one minor exception, each item of which complaint had been made, was paid by appropriate action of the board.

JUDGE JOHN P. CASE on Oct. 12, disqualified himself from presiding in the recovery suit, but set 9:30 a.m. Oct. 25 for hearing on the demurrer.

Judge Case, who had been sitting on the Common Pleas Court bench in Scioto County (Portsmouth) earlier this week by assignment, received a letter from Chief Justice Carl V. Weygandt of the Ohio Supreme Court Thursday, saying Judge Radcliff would be assigned to hear the demurrer.

Illinois Chief Denies Link to Hodge Scandal

CHICAGO (AP)—Gov. William G. Stratton, appearing before a U. S. Senate committee, has denied "any implication" that one-time Auditor Orville E. Hodge was spirited off to prison to keep other names out of the $1.5 million state check-cashing scandal.

Stratton, a Republican seeking reelection, testified before the Democrat-controlled Senate Banking and Currency Committee Thursday at his own request. The hearings, which have lasted two weeks, were scheduled to end today with questioning of State Treasurer Warren Wright and Charles J. Fleck, Cook County public administrator.

During nearly 3½ hours of testimony, Stratton said he was powerless, under the state constitution, to interfere with other elected officials. He testified that once the embezzlements were known, he took "firm, effective" action in getting rid of Hodge.

The committee, headed by Sen. Fulbright (D-Ark.), has been probing the banking aspects of the Hodge swindle with the aim of improving federal banking laws. Hodge, a Republican, is in prison for admittedly embezzling from the state treasury through a bogus check-cashing scheme.

U. S. British Debating Suez 2 Nations Reported To Differ on Policy

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States and Britain are reported to have a new snag in trying to work out common policies for dealing with Egypt in the Suez Canal dispute. This one concerns the payment of tolls for ships going through the canal.

However, some diplomatic officials say that at the heart of the current disagreement is the basic issue of how tough a line the Western powers should take toward Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser.

The specific problem of what the newly organized Suez Canal Users' Assn. should do about ship tolls is in active negotiation between Secretary of State Dulles and British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd.

Dulles is described as advocating that any money paid to the users association by ships going through the Suez should be turned over to Egypt for use of the canal—less, of course, any association expenses for pilot services and the like.

Lloyd is said to have proposed that such tolls be held as blocked funds not to be paid to Egypt until there is a final settlement of the Suez controversy.

British Change Defense Chiefs

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Eden named a new and younger defense minister today and at the same time brushed aside complaints about the handling of reservists called back into uniform because of the Suez Canal crisis.

Eden promoted 50-year-old War Secretary Antony Head to the post of minister of defense. Head, who succeeds Sir Walter Monckton, 65, has insisted right along that army reservists will have to stay in uniform until the Suez Canal dispute is settled.

Monckton was named paymaster general and remains in the Cabinet. He asked to be released from "the constant and mounting strain" of the defense office.

John Hugh Hare, minister of state for colonial affairs, was appointed secretary for war.

JERUSALEM (AP)—An American woman sentenced to a year in prison on charges she spied for Syria has appealed for a pardon to Israeli President Gamal Ben-Zvi, her attorney said today.

Max Kritzman, attorney for 29-year-old Mary Frances Hagan, had previously announced he would not appeal her conviction last week by a Jerusalem district court but would ask instead for executive clemency.

Ben-Zvi's office declined to comment on what action would be taken.

Miss Hagan, whose family lives in Huntington, W. Va., pleaded innocent to the charges she had violated Israel's official secrets act. Officials in Washington have indicated the United States would also appeal to the Israeli government for mercy.

Pretty Bride To Lose Her Right Leg

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Cherrie Lee Thompson is 17 and pretty. She has a new husband and today she loses her right leg.

The doctor said it was the only way he might save her from cancer. He told her Thursday.

Cherrie thought he was kidding at first.

Laroy Jay Thompson already knew. The 21-year-old soldier had hurried home on emergency leave from his station at Ft. Jackson, S. C., so they could be married ahead of schedule.

Cherrie looked up from her bed at Laroy Jay and said:

"Now see what kind of a girl you married."

She began to cry. Later she managed to joke about it. Nylons wouldn't look so bad over an artificial leg.

Cherrie and Laroy Jay spoke their vows in her room at St. Anthony Hospital Wednesday. He stood beside her bed. They had been sweethearts for years. They decided when he returned from Korea 10 weeks ago to get married as soon as he finished his three-year Army hitch.

"But then this thing came up and I decided we ought to get married right now," he said.

GOP 'Despises' New Ideas, Adlai Claims

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — Adlai Stevenson said here today that Republicans "seem to despise new ideas." He said that when they come face to face with one, "they twist and distort it until public understanding or discussion becomes almost impossible.

"This isn't an accident," Stevenson declared. "It is the deliberate design of a political leadership which doesn't want voters to think, which knows its own bankruptcy of new plans for a new America."

Nixon Talks At Al Smith Memorial

WILMINGTON, Del. (AP) — Vice President Nixon continued talking on his view that Adlai Stevenson "just isn't in the same league" as President Eisenhower when it comes to leadership in international or domestic affairs.

In New York Thursday night Nixon took time out from the campaign trail to make the avowedly non-political main address at the annual Alfred E. Smith Memorial Dinner. Smith, former New York governor, was the 1928 Democratic nominee.

Nixon predicted the United States will come through the present crisis over racial desegregation in public schools as, he said, it has surmounted in the past such things as the Ku Klux Klan and the antiforeign Know Nothing movement.

"Most of us here will live to see the day when American boys and girls shall sit side by side at any school, public or private—with no regard paid to the color of their skin," Nixon said.

Nixon said the United States will work first to remove from the world the fear of war and the burden of armament, then seek to exchange persons and other means to convince Communist governments that "even on their materialist assumptions, they must restore full freedom if their society is to work."

President's Aides

COMING FROM a two-day swing through Michigan and Ohio, Stevenson ripped into Eisenhower's statement that Nixon is the "best qualified man to serve" as vice president.

Asserting that the Republican congressional leaders value Eisenhower as a candidate but ignore him as a party leader, Stevenson said that if Eisenhower is reelected, "the Republican party leadership team will take over."

"What does this mean?" he asked, then declared:

"It means that a vote for Eisenhower is a vote for Richard Nixon, because if the Republican President doesn't want to or can't be the real leader of the Republican party after the election, his vice president can and wants to be."

Stevenson said that instead of the peace which Eisenhower stresses in each campaign talk, there is only an "armed truce."

"The uneasy position which prevails in the world today which they call 'peace' is based on a balance of terror, which is a dangerous foundation," he said.

Stevenson struck back at Republican contentions that his proposal to end military draft might endanger national security.

The Democratic nominee said that through his plan for attracting longer enlistments and career servicemen, through better pay, improved working conditions, bonuses and scholarships, "we can develop a more effective defense with higher morale and, I believe, at no higher cost."

Slayer of Officer Ordered to Death

CLEVELAND (AP) — Norman Edward Walker, 32, Thursday was sentenced to die in the electric chair for the July 8 slaying of Garner M. Robertson, a part-time patrolman in nearby Valley View.

Judges Felix T. Matia, William K. Thomas and Eugene R. McNeill convicted Walker of murder in the first degree on the second count of his indictment: deliberate and premeditated killing with malice. They found him innocent on the first indictment of willfully killing a police officer.

The electrocution was set for next Feb. 20 in Ohio Penitentiary.

FIVE DAY WEATHER FORECAST

Temperatures will average about 10 degrees above normal. Normal high 61-65; normal low 42. A little warmer Saturday, with little change thereafter. Precipitation will average less than one-tenth inch as showers in northern Ohio Saturday night and Sunday and again about Tuesday.

Five Homes Lost

The explosion occurred at a depot from which cooking gas is distributed in small tanks to customers in Herrin and rural areas.

Police Chief Roy Cole said Henry Scheffler, 50, operator of the depot, was filling the small tanks from a large tank truck when a leak apparently developed.

"THE AREA was filled with escaping gas," Cole said. "In some manner it was ignited. The flow kept increasing. Then one of the small tanks blew up and that set off the others."

Mayor Dave H. Miller said he heard five distinct explosions.

"Any one of them would have been enough to blow up a house," Miller said. "They threw gas all over those houses."

Miller said the dead woman and three dead children were found lying on the ground where a home had been "blown over them."

Firemen were at the scene before the blast and fire, having been summoned when the leak occurred. The flames burned fiercely for about an hour before they were brought under control.

The injured included Mrs. Imogene Keller, 29, mother of Charlotte's twin sister, Sharon, and another sister, Susan Jarvis, 7, and their grandmother, Mrs. Gladys McGee, were injured.

The Williams' 7-month-old son, Randy, and the Kerley's son, Carl, 2, also were hospitalized.

Atty. Ed Half of New Boston:

"If police need help, why don't committee (VCCL) members volunteer. They can let the chief go out there and get his head battered."

Stevenson struck back at Republican contentions that his proposal to end military draft might endanger national security.

The Democratic nominee said that through his plan for attracting longer enlistments and career servicemen, through better pay, improved working conditions, bonuses and scholarships, "we can develop a more effective defense with higher morale and, I believe, at no higher cost."

Boys' Choir Names Officers

Paul Cox President Of New Vocal Group

The newly formed Fayette County Boys' Choir elected its first slate of officers at Thursday night at a regular rehearsal in the GAR Hall on Court St.

The president is Paul Cox; vice president is Raney Foster; secretary-treasurer, Bob Martindale; librarian, Ron McCune and sergeant-at-arms, Ken Stewart.

The group's first public appearance is scheduled for Sunday evening, Dec. 29, in the Episcopal Church, Mrs. Robert E. Willis, director announced.

With the addition of seven new members following Tuesday tryouts the group has grown to 47 boys since its inception a few weeks ago.

"I'm charmed by the voices we have collected in such a short time," Mrs. Willis said, "and we have depth in all four parts."

SINCE SHE HOPES to bring the total choir members up to 50, she has extended the tryout period until the end of next week.

The group's regular practice times will be Tuesday and Thursday at 6:30 p.m.

To be eligible for membership an applicant must be between 9 and 25 years of age.

Mr. George Baker has been obtained as the choir's assisting accompanist. He will act as replacement for first accompanist Clarence Barger when the latter is unable to be present.

Larry Roush was chosen as assistant librarian. Assistant to Mrs. Willis will be Allan Thomas.

Money-making projects to be directed by Mrs. Lewis Baer, will include the collection of tax stamps, the collection of old iron, newspapers and magazines, and the sale of candy and cookies by the boys.

A small allowance will be given toward transportation expenses when a boy has perfect monthly or weekly attendance.

Pretty Bride To Lose Her Right Leg

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Cherrie Lee Thompson is 17 and pretty. She has a new husband and today she loses her right leg.

The doctor said it was the only way he might save her from cancer. He told her Thursday.

Cherrie thought he was kidding at first.

Laroy Jay Thompson already knew. The 21-year-old soldier had hurried home on emergency leave from his station at Ft. Jackson, S. C., so they could be married ahead of schedule.

Cherrie looked up from her bed at Laroy Jay and said:

"Now see what kind of a girl you married."

She began to cry. Later she managed to joke about it. Nylons wouldn't look so bad over an artificial leg.

Cherrie and Laroy Jay spoke their vows in her room at St. Anthony Hospital Wednesday. He stood beside her bed. They had been sweethearts for years. They decided when he returned from Korea 10 weeks ago to get married as soon as he finished his three-year Army hitch.

"But then this thing came up and I decided we ought to get married right now," he said.

Arson Seen As 3 Die in College Fire

MOSCOW (AP) — Three University of Idaho students were killed today when an early morning fire, termed by Fire Chief Carl Smith the work of an arsonist, swept through a dormitory housing 130 men.

Smith said the fire broke out in the main flour lounge of Gault Hall, a brick and steel structure which was opened only last fall. Smith said the building was "supposed to be completely fireproof."

Prosecuting Attorney Lloyd Martin started an immediate investigation.

Those who died in the blaze were identified by Smith as:

Paul Johnson, Davenport, Wash.; John Knudson, Idaho Falls, Idaho; Clair Schulberg, Terreton, Idaho. Johnson was a sophomore, the others freshmen.

Smith said two of the victims were trapped in the halls of the building. The third was suffocated in a shower room.

Three other students were burned, none seriously.

The blaze was the fourth in a series at the school.

The first broke out a week ago in the lounge of Willis Sweet, a man's dorm housing 190.

Last Saturday, the Chrisman Hall Lounge was the scene of another fire.

Only the representatives of the Socialist-governed state of Hesse opposed the government bill.

"Any one of them would have been enough to blow up a house," Miller said. "They threw gas all over those houses."

Miller said the dead woman and three dead children were found lying on the ground where a home had been "blown over them."

Firemen were at the scene before the blast and fire, having been summoned when the leak occurred. The flames burned fiercely for about an hour before they were brought under control.

The injured included Mrs. Jeanne Keller, 29, mother of Charlotte Jarvis by an earlier marriage and of Robert Lee Keller.

Charlotte's twin sister, Sharon, and another sister, Susan Jarvis, 7, and their grandmother, Mrs. Gladys McGee, were injured.

The Williams' 7-month-old son, Randy, and the Kerley's son, Carl, 2, also were hospitalized.

Asst. Police Chief Albert Bailey: Police decided against using tear gas to stop the crowd because women and children were living in the neighborhood.

Mrs. Charles Lawson: "I wonder how many so-called members of the committee (VCCL) would have fired on small children." She was pleased with the "efficient policemen."

Atty. Ed Half of New Boston: "If police need help, why don't committee (VCCL) members volunteer. They can let the chief go out there and get his head battered."

Lausche Warmly Endorses Adlai Stevenson's Candidacy

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Gov. Frank J. Lausche endorsed the candidacy of Democratic presidential choice Adlai Stevenson while accompanying Stevenson on a speaking tour across northern Ohio Thursday.

The five-term Democratic governor, running for the U. S. Senate in the Nov. 6 election, also hailed Stevenson's running mate, Estes Kefauver, as one who "would be a worthy successor to the office of the president of the United States."

Lausche's endorsement of his party's presidential candidate is not, in itself, astounding. However, the governor in the past has been described as a fence-straddler by his critics. He has expressed admiration for President Eisenhower and has hinted that he voted for the late Ohio Sen. Robert A. Taft in the 1952 election.

Eisenhower, of course, is a Republican, as was Taft.

In Toledo, where the governor introduced Stevenson at a courthouse rally, he declared:

"When Nov. 6 comes and I go to the ballot box it will be my privilege and my honor to cast a ballot for him (Stevenson) as president of the United States."

Lausche further described Stevenson as a "fearless man" and one who possesses "a humanity which prompts him to help those in this country who are exploited and need help."

The governor also appeared with Stevenson at Elyria and Akron.

Stevenson interpolated a brief reference to Lausche in his speech at Youngstown, saying "Lausche is a great Ohioan—a man known across Ohio for his integrity and independence."

Meanwhile, the governor's senatorial opponent Republican incumbent George H. Bender, replied to Lausche's statements in a radio television broadcast Wednesday evening in which Lausche called for reduced federal spending.

The senators sat in Cleveland that if Lausche "really believes in cutting the size and cost of our federal government, he had better vote for me along with all the other Republicans he claims will be reduced federal spending."

He added: "It is just too painful for him (Lausche) to remember that it was his party that spawned the ever-growing, sprawling bureaucracy which threatened to dominate and control the lives of every man and woman in America."

Also campaigning Thursday was Atty. Gen. C. William O'Neill, who outlined to a Cleveland audience a four-point program for increased highway safety. The Republican gubernatorial candidate recommended:

1. Intensive law enforcement every day of the year and not just during temporary "safety drive" periods.

2. Intensive research on the causes of traffic accidents and a vigorous correction program for chronic traffic violators and accident-prone drivers.

3. A stepped-up highway construction program which will give priority to those projects which would relieve unsafe conditions.

4. A comprehensive driver-train-

In Cleveland, a beaming Mike DiSalle, O'Neill's Democratic opponent, stood three hours in the receiving line of a huge tea and gallantly shook hands with some 6,000 to 8,000 ladies.

In Salem, John Taylor, Democratic candidate for lieutenant governor, criticized his Republican opponent, Paul M. Herbert, for participating in a recent squabble involving the Ohio Turnpike Commission.

The lieutenant governor should be a completely impartial presiding officer of the Senate," Taylor said, "and should do nothing to impair his usefulness in that capacity."

Herbert is a former lieutenant governor but does not now hold that post.

The five-term Democratic governor, running for the U. S. Senate in the Nov. 6 election, also hailed Stevenson's running mate, Estes Kefauver, as one who "would be a worthy successor to the office of the president of the United States."

Lausche's endorsement of his party's presidential candidate is not, in itself, astounding. However, the governor in the past has been described as a fence-straddler by his critics. He has expressed admiration for President Eisenhower and has hinted that he voted for the late Ohio Sen. Robert A. Taft in the 1952 election.

Eisenhower, of course, is a Republican, as was Taft.

In Toledo, where the governor introduced Stevenson at a courthouse rally, he declared:

"When Nov. 6 comes and I go to the ballot box it will be my privilege and my honor to cast a ballot for him (Stevenson) as president of the United States."

Lausche further described Stevenson as a "fearless man" and one who possesses "a humanity which prompts him to help those in this country who are exploited and need help."

The governor also appeared with Stevenson at Elyria and Akron.

Stevenson interpolated a brief reference to Lausche in his speech at Youngstown, saying "Lausche is a great Ohioan—a man known across Ohio for his integrity and independence."

Meanwhile, the governor's senatorial opponent, Republican incumbent George H. Bender, replied to Lausche's statements in radio television broadcast Wednesday evening in which Lausche called for reduced federal spending.

The senators said in Cleveland that if Lausche "really believes in cutting the size and cost of our federal government, he had better vote for me along with all the other Republicans he claims he likes."

He added: "It is just too painful for him (Lausche) to remember that it was his party that spawned the ever-growing, sprawling bureaucracy which threatened to dominate and control the lives of every man and woman in America."

Also campaigning Thursday was Atty. Gen. C. William O'Neill, who outlined to a Cleveland audience a four-point program for increased highway safety. The Republican gubernatorial candidate recommended:

1. Intensive law enforcement every day of the year and not just during temporary "safety drive" periods.

2. Intensive research on the causes of traffic accidents and a vigorous correction program for chronic traffic violators and accident-prone drivers.

3. A stepped-up highway construction program which will give priority to those projects which would relieve unsafe conditions.

4. A comprehensive driver-train-

Extension Agents Headed for Houston

County Agent W. W. Montgomery and Associate County Agent Phil Grover will attend the annual meeting of the National Assn. of County Agents in Houston, Tex., Sunday through Thursday.

In Cleveland, a beaming Mike DiSalle, O'Neill's Democratic opponent, stood three hours in the receiving line of a huge tea and gallantly shook hands with some 6,000 to 8,000 ladies.

In Salem, John Taylor, Democratic candidate for lieutenant governor, criticized his Republican opponent, Paul M. Herbert, for participating in a recent squabble involving the Ohio Turnpike Commission.

The lieutenant governor should be a completely impartial presiding officer of the Senate," Taylor said, "and should do nothing to impair his usefulness in that capacity."

Herbert is a former lieutenant governor but does not now hold that post.

Reuther, Stevenson and a Labor Government?

If the Democratic campaign for the presidency should happen to be successful in the nation this year and Adlai Stevenson becomes president, will we have a labor government in Washington D. C.?

One more possibility for people to think about, will Walter Reuther be the big power behind the throne, if this happens?

There is a gradual realization that such a thing could happen, according to some of the nation's well known writers.

One in particular, Carlisle Barger, in his feature column in the Commercial and Financial Chronicle asserts that Stevenson is not too happy in the role he is being forced to take in the present campaign.

Among other comments this writer, in his column "From Washington Ahead of the News", says "Quite an issue was made against him (Stevenson) in the primary campaign on his gentleness and, therefore, his inability to make a knockdown and drag-out fight. He has taken this criticism seriously.

"Not of the same mould as Stevenson is any means, Truman, however, is a very decent sort of a fellow. The first few months he was in the White House he was deeply impressed with the responsibility that had been thrust upon him and in these months the conservatives were both surprised and happy. Then Truman's political mentor, the man who had steered him to the Vice-Presidency, Bob Hannegan, did some serious talking to him. He argued that the conservatives would continue to applaud him but they would vote against him when the time came around. The only way for a Democrat to remain in office, Hannegan contended, was to tie up with the labor leaders, the minority groups; in short, to keep the rabble aroused. This Truman set out to do and he did it very successfully. Naturally he thinks he pursued the right course inasmuch as he won in 1948.

"Stevenson has been convinced that he must do the same thing. Undoubtedly he thinks that he will change once he is elected. He is following the old adage that you can't be a statesman without first being elected. But he is as wrong as he can be if he thinks he can shake loose from the crowd around him. And they are about as motley a group as one can possibly conceive.

"Most Washington observers agree that perhaps the most influential man around him will be Walter Reuther, the labor leader, who has an insatiable thirst for power. Reuther is certainly the spark plug of his campaign. He is already the political dictator of Michigan where his handpicked G. Mennen Williams has been elected governor for three successive terms. He is making an audacious bid to take over Indiana this year.

"In fact, the CIO wing of the labor movement is making its boldest bid for power this year since it tried to knock off Bob Taft in Ohio in 1950. Taft gave them a sound thrashing.

"This labor crowd is moving more quietly this year. One thing they learned in the Ohio campaign was that it didn't pay to brag. That year they announced loudly and widely they were going to take Taft out of public life.

"This year they are inclined to play down their activities, to say they are hardly doing anything more than acquainting their members with the voting records of the candidates. The facts are they are in the campaign up to their necks. It is my conviction that if Stevenson should win we will have a labor government—a Walter Reuther labor government at that.

"Stevenson has the surprise of his life coming in if he thinks he can shake this man off his back. The plain facts are that Stevenson will be about as captive as any man we have ever had in the White House."

Even Grass Roots Yawning

NEW YORK (AP)—In 1952, the ordinary voter didn't hesitate to break up a beautiful lifelong friendship over a difference in political opinion.

He was that steamed up.

But do you know of anybody who has broken any lifelong friendship as a result of the 1956 campaign? I don't.

In less than three weeks from now the nation picks its next President. But the general public seems hardly more stirred by this fact than by the news that there are only 50-odd shopping days left before Christmas.

What has happened?

In previous presidential election years politics have always ranked as America's top participant sport, a participant sport being one in which you take part yourself—such as playing gin rummy or making love.

The great spectator sports,

By Hal Boyle

those at which you just sat and watched, were baseball, football and basketball. But this year politics seems to outrank them as a spectator sport. No one is playing the game but the professional politicians. The voters are on the sidelines sitting on their hands.

It wasn't that way in 1952. Remember? Everybody was in politics, and politics was in everybody. Husbands were so riled up they were even talking back to their wives.

Democrats were walking into bars offering to "lick any Republican in the place" and any Republican within earshot was ready to call them.

In an effort to find the reason behind the public's apathy, reporters are going to "the grass roots". But the grass roots aren't saying much. They're yawning, too.

By George Sokolsky

What makes a "dirty word" in politics, national and international? Let us take, for example, the word, "imperialism".

It was a "good word" for many centuries because Europe thrived on imperialism. The Spanish, the Dutch, the French, the British, the Austro-Hungarians and other empires brought into Europe enormous wealth upon which, at any rate, Britain, France and The Netherlands are still living.

"Imperialism" became bad during World War I when Woodrow Wilson and Jan Smuts accepted the defeat of the newer German imperialism as a rebuke to this method of maintaining order among the weak and backward peoples. Wilson's 14 points included self-determination which was a system for fragmenting the human race.

The destruction of the Austro-Hungarian empire disturbed order in the Danubian world and paved the way for the appearance in Europe of the Soviet empire, united all the Slavic peoples within the hegemony of the Kremlin—a union often attempted but never before succeeding.

"Imperialism" became a bad word because of the emotional reactions in this country to the partition of China by European countries, the Gandhi movement in India and the emergence of Japan as a great power which started in 1868 and ended in 1945.

But the "imperialism" of Soviet Russia and of Red China—the largest empire the human race has ever known which not only holds peoples in subjection but which actively and currently practices genocide—this is not

Karl Marx, writing as a correspondent for the "New York Daily Tribune," from London, in 1857, said in an article which may have actually been penned by his associate, Frederick Engels:

"There is evidently a different spirit among the Chinese now to what they showed in the war of 1840 to '42. Then, the people were quiet; they left the Emperor's soldiers to fight the invaders, and submitted after a defeat with Eastern fatalism to the power of the enemy. But now, at least in the southern provinces, to which the contest has so far been confined, the mass of the people taken an active, any, a farcical part in the struggle against the foreigners. They poison the bread of the European community at Hong Kong by wholesale, and with the coolest premeditation . . ."

The Russians, in fact, have dropped the word, imperialism, altogether because it comes too close to home. Instead, they have latched on to the word "colonialism" which now becomes a very bad word, as bad as those the little boys used to write on walls with chalk before the days of the high standard of living when the little boys wrote dirty words on walls with lip-stick. When the word "colonialism" is said, those who belong to countries which have or have had colonies are supposed to hide their heads in shame.

But the fact stands out that when the British had 80,000 troops in Egypt, the world was not on the verge of war because of the private aspirations of the hitlerites Arab who seeks to establish an Arab empire no better surely than the British Empire which he hopes, with Russian help and American mentality, to destroy.

This is but one example of the conversion of an ordinary word into a bad word by constant propaganda to that effect and by the so-called "educating" of the masses, developing disturbances which led to increased poverty, hunger, revolution and war.

"Not of the same mould as Stevenson by any means, Truman, however, is a very decent sort of a fellow. The first few months he was in the White House he was deeply impressed with the responsibility that had been thrust upon him and in these months the conservatives were both surprised and happy. Then Truman's political mentor, the man who had steered him to the Vice-Presidency, Bob Hannegan, did some serious talking to him. He argued that the conservatives would continue to applaud him but they would vote against him when the time came around. The only way for a Democrat to remain in office, Hannegan contended, was to tie up with the labor leaders, the minority groups; in short, to keep the rabble aroused. This Truman set out to do and he did it very successfully. Naturally he thinks he pursued the right course inasmuch as he won in 1948.

"Stevenson has been convinced that he must do the same thing. Undoubtedly he thinks that he will change once he is elected. He is following the old adage that you can't be a statesman without first being elected. But he is as wrong as he can be if he thinks he can shake loose from the crowd around him. And they are about as motley a group as one can possibly conceive.

"Most Washington observers agree that perhaps the most influential man around him will be Walter Reuther, the labor leader, who has an insatiable thirst for power. Reuther is certainly the spark plug of his campaign. He is already the political dictator of Michigan where he is handpicked G. Mennen Williams has been elected governor for three successive terms. He is making an audacious bid to take over Indiana this year.

"In fact, the CIO wing of the labor movement is making its boldest bid for power this year since it tried to knock off Bob Taft in Ohio in 1950. Taft gave them a sound thrashing.

"This labor crowd is moving more quietly this year. One thing they learned in the Ohio campaign was that it didn't pay to brag. That year they announced loudly and widely they were going to take Taft out of public life.

"This year they are inclined to play down their activities, to say they are hardly doing anything more than acquainting their members with the voting records of the candidates. The facts are they are in the campaign up to their necks. It is my conviction that if Stevenson should win we will have a labor government—a Walter Reuther labor government at that.

"Stevenson has the surprise of his life coming if he thinks he can shake this man off his back. The plain facts are that Stevenson will be about as captive as any man we have ever had in the White House."

By Hal Boyle

those at which you just sat and watched, were baseball, football and basketball. But this year politics seems to outrank them as a spectator sport. No one is playing the game but the professional politicians. The voters are on the sidelines sitting on their hands.

It wasn't that way in 1952. Remember? Everybody was in politics, and politics was in everybody. Husbands were so riled up they were even talking back to their wives.

Democrats were walking into bars offering to "lick any Republican in the place" and any Republican within earshot was ready to call them.

In an effort to find the reason behind the public's apathy, reporters are going to "the grass roots". But the grass roots aren't saying much. They're yawning, too.

What has happened?

In previous presidential election years politics have always ranked as America's top participant sport, a participant sport being one in which you take part yourself—such as playing gin rummy or making love.

The great spectator sports, included among the bad words because the Russians have, with a brilliant sense of semantics, called their effort "liberation."

It is the same old imperialistic process under a new label and the label succeeds in fooling those who will not look beyond the contents.

The Russians, in fact, have dropped the word, imperialism, altogether because it comes too close to home. Instead, they have latched on to the word "colonialism" which now becomes a very bad word, as bad as those little boys used to write on walls with chalk before the days of the high standard of living when the little boys wrote dirty words on walls with lip stick. When the word "colonialism" is said, those who belong to countries which have or have had colonies are supposed to hide their heads in shame.

But the fact stands that when the British had 80,000 troops in Egypt, the world was not on the verge of war because of the private aspirations of the Hitleresque Arab who seeks to establish an Arab empire no better surely than the British Empire which he hopes, with Russian help and American sentimality, to destroy.

"Colonialism" became a bad word because of the emotional reactions in this country to the partition of China by European countries, the Gandhi movement in India and the emergence of Japan as a great power which started in 1868 and ended in 1945.

But the "imperialism" of Soviet Russia and of Red China—the largest empire the human race has ever known which not only holds peoples in subjection but which actively and currently practices genocide—this is not

This is but one example of the conversion of an ordinary word into a bad word by constant propaganda to that effect and by the so-called "educating" of the masses, developing disturbances which led to increased poverty, hunger, revolution and war.

Karl Marx, writing as a correspondent for the "New York Daily Tribune," from London in 1857, said in an article which may have actually been penned by his associate, Frederick Engels:

"There is evidently a different spirit among the Chinese now to what they showed in the war of 1840 to '42. Then, the people were quiet; they left the Emperor's soldiers to fight the invaders, and submitted after a defeat with Eastern fatalism to the power of the enemy. But now, at least in the southern provinces, to which the contest has so far been confined, the mass of the

Diet and Health

Have any of you men ever been the victim of a close shave?

Chances are you have if you've developed small pimples on the shaving area of your face. Those of you with curly hair or facial hair which has a tendency to grow at sharp angles are especially susceptible.

Facial Hair

This condition, in which the pimples contain facial hair, probably is caused by attempting to shave too closely and shaving against the grain.

When you stretch the skin to get a good close shave, you cause the hair to protrude farther above the surface of the skin than it normally would. The razor snips the hair off and the remaining stub settles beneath the skin surface.

Many times these closely cropped hairs grow out through the natural hair follicles.

Skin Tube

However, it is always possible that the hairs will penetrate the wall of the skin tube instead of following their natural course. As they grow, they force their way directly through the skin.

Now, no matter how clean you keep your face, germs are present on the skin at all times. These germs, coming in contact with the broken skin, are apt to produce infection. And there you have your pimples.

Electric Shaver

Switching to an electric shaver probably won't solve the problem. Heavy pressure by the head of an electric razor is just as apt to extend a hair above the skin surface beyond its normal length.

Light pressure when shaving probably is the answer. Shaving with the grain also is advisable to prevent such conditions and to help clear them up once they do occur.

So just remember: if shaving causes pimples to form on your face, use the once-over-lightly technique.

Thirty Years Ago

Announcing that the city has $300 for the first six months of operating, Mayor Allen announced that the public service will be discontinued on Sunday.

He issued the order Wednesday after deciding that highway engineers made false representations to James H. Ratliff about how much land the state would appropriate from him for the project.

You Need The Church-The Church Needs You

"Son, Your Direction's Wrong"

— You look but don't see. Your thoughts are base...your direction down. I've noticed your horizon is about the top of the ditch you happen to stand in. Why, your whole formula is wrong.

What makes it worse, you are trying to work out-of-it alone. You can't do it! Give God a chance! You are strong of body but what about that starved, selfish, shriveled soul of yours?

I tell you son, God won't let you get away with it. Right now

He is inquiring about your church attendance, your Sunday School record, how many churches you have helped build and what you did with the tenth that belonged to Him?

Son, with all the love of a good father, and with the promised help of God...I beg you to make a change. Let your life count for Him because your business successes won't help much in the last hours.

Fayette County Maps Participation In Observance of Farm-City Week

Plans for Fayette County's part in the nationally observed Farm-City Week, Nov. 16-22, were formulated at a meeting of representatives from key rural and urban organizations in the county extension office Thursday night.

The group met with G. B. Vance, chairman of the Extension Advisory Council's committee on

Air Force Couple Giving Home to Little Boy's Dog

LEXINGTON, Mass. (AP)—To the little boy who used to own "Spotty," the dog: Don't worry about him, he is in good hands.

He is living with Air Force Major and Mrs. Lorenzo J. Bonanno.

Mrs. Bonanno found the hungry-looking mongrel pup. Attached to the dog's collar was this note:

"Whoever finds this dog, please take care of him. He is a good watchdog. His name is Spotty."

"We can't keep him because my husband isn't working."

"He belonged to my little boy. Please be good to him."

"My son is praying for someone to take his dog in and be good to him. He loved him so much. So did we."

"Thank you, whoever you may be, and God bless you."

Mrs. Bonanno said she wants the youngster, whoever he is, to know that "Spotty" is in good hands.

For Freshman Y-teen Group Pushing Membership Drive

Officers of the Senior Y-teen club hopes to see observance of the week become part of Fayette County's tradition.

Some groups, such as the Rotary Club, have made efforts in this direction in the past.

Suggested programs, facts and figures and other information, and possibly speakers may be obtained by any group wishing to participate in the program. Vance may be reached through the extension office.

SUGGESTIONS were made concerning church observance of the week, school assembly programs, exchange tours between rural and urban groups, joint meetings of farm and city groups, window displays and radio programs.

Boys from high school vocational agriculture classes have agreed to participate.

A Farm Bureau Council representative suggested a "Market Basket" program, with the producer, distributor and seller of a product telling their part in bringing it to the consumer.

The meeting ended with the reading of the 23rd Psalm.

For Jeep Joy Riders Irk Texas Guards

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Officers of the 49th Armored Division of the Texas National Guard have complained to police that prowlers keep entering the division motor compound and taking joy rides in jeeps. They said fenders and bumpers get crumpled and the batteries run down.

The girls emphasized that there are more than 400,000 teen-agers in more than 6,000 Y-teen groups in the country, and 8,000 of the Y-teens are in clubs in the Ohio Y.M.C.A. district.

The purpose of the Y-teen program, the girls said, is three-fold:

To stimulate growth of Y-teens as individuals; to promote the growth of friendship with people of all races, religions and nationalities; and to teach the love and knowledge of God.

New members were welcomed to the group at the regular meeting Friday. The club's membership now stands at 47 out of 84 freshman girls, according to Paulette Pennington, president.

Money-making activities for projects during the year, were discussed at the meeting. The girls will sell tickets for the Jaycees' pancake supper next Friday and completed plans for a food sale to be held Saturday in the Colonial Paint Co. and Jean's Appliance and Television Store at 9 a.m.

For Man, 105, Stays Clear of Women

BOSTON (AP)—Charles W. Thiery, who will be 106 years old on Oct. 26, says his good health could be attributed to his lack of interest in women.

The white whiskered bachelor said women are just as beautiful today as they were in the last century, but he added "I never paid much attention to them. Marriage is not for me."

He contends his wife contracted a fatal illness while washing and caring for his work clothes, which contained traces of the beryllium products.

OPEN DITCH IN TOWN

While you are driving over Market St. from North to Hinde St., just recall that when Washington C. H. was first laid out 146 years ago (1810) an open ditch ran down where part of Market St. is now located, and that when a road was built across the ditch, logs were placed in it to form a corduroy surface so horses and horse-drawn vehicles could cross it in safety.

Some 25 years ago workmen digging a sewer trench on W. Market St. struck logs which were part of the old corduroy road.

Corals, which become stones, were animals — like sea anemones. Their stony skeletons build reefs and islands.

AN UNUSUAL DOG

A short time ago members of the Wilbur Vernon family, who reside on the former William Parker farm, on Route 38, two miles north of Bloomingburg, came to the dog pound to select a dog for the farm.

They picked a small, black and white dog, short hair but with a very bushy tail somewhat resembling a fox. They did so because, while all of the other dogs were yelping and running about, Jack, as they named him, sat quietly back gazing at the Vernons steadfastly and longingly as if to say:

"Take me, I think I like you folks".

Anyway they selected the odd appearing dog with the bushy tail, and he has proven to be a dog of more than ordinary intelligence.

A few days ago Gene Vernon, who with his twin brother, Glenn, claim the dog, took a truck load of soybeans to Madison Mills. Jack went along. He declined more than

"Take me, I think I like you folks".

Blue Lions Invading Wilmington Tonight

The Washington Blue Lions go drills," said the coach. "There wasn't much joking or horsing around. They were just laughing and having a good time. They were sure of themselves. They knew their assignments and ran through them smoothly."

"Frankly, it mystified me," said Domenico.

THE BOYS knew what they were doing and did it well.

"We had to chase them out of the fieldhouse after practice to get them to go home," said Domenico.

Last week was just the opposite as they got ready for the Hillsboro game, he recalled.

"Last week perhaps we were overconcerned, put too much pressure on them."

The Thursday signal practice covered both offensive and defensive assignments. The Lions have been more concerned with defense than offense this week. They ran Wilmington plays against the defense and drilled extensively.

The two teams have each won a league game — from Greenfield, Wilmington has tied Circleville and the Lions dropped to Hillsboro last week.

THE GUARDS, tackles, center, halfbacks and fullback for the Hurricane are all seniors. Here's their line-up:

Ends, Roger Reedy and Mark Smith; tackles, Eddie Hamilton; guards, Dave Mathews and Dan Inlow; center, Gene Bias; quarterback, Harold Fields; halfbacks, Harold Sims, Macey Cordell; fullback, Lyndell Suggs.

"These boys are rough," said Domenico. "We've got to hit 'em hard and pound them down to the ground."

The Lions will be on the field for a short warm-up at 7:0 p.m. and reappear for three minutes of drills just before the game starts.

OSU Still Ows Nittany Lions 9 Minutes

COLUMBUS (P) — For 44 years Ohio State has owed Penn State something like nine minutes of football playing time.

It was back in 1912, at old Ohio Field, that the Nittany Lions and the Bucks met for the only time on the gridiron. They clash again Saturday, this time before some 82,000 in the big stadium.

There's still a lot of conversation about the game of 44 years ago. In the final quarter, with the Lions out front by 37-0, Ohio State Coach Jack Richards, objecting to the gridiron. They clash again Saturday, this time before some 82,000 in the big stadium.

The game is carried in Penn

State's records as a 37-0 victory; Ohio State calls it a 1-0 forfeit. Penn State that year was unbeaten and untied, outscoring the opposition 285 to 6, the latter points a Cornell touchdown.

Things are different now, and the chances are the Penn State team Saturday might be willing to call the game off nine minutes before the finish, since the Bucks are overwhelming favorites.

The Ohioans, riding a 14-game Big Ten winning streak and going after their third straight Western Conference crown, probably will try to take the Lions in stride as a tuneup for the stretch drive against Wisconsin, Northwestern, Indiana, Iowa and Michigan—all league opponents.

Penn State, despite Ohio's top-flight record and talent — Iaden

White, 141; 189; 172; 403; Armburst, 141; 210; 156; 510 squad, has the tools to make it an interesting game. The Lions lost 14-7 to Army, but romped 34-0 over Pennsylvania and 43-0 over Holy Cross, riling up 49 first downs while holding the foe to 17, of which Army garnered 12.

Ohio Masons Meet

CINCINNATI (P) — Approximately 3,000 members of the Free and Accepted Masons of the Grand Lodge of Ohio open their 147th annual convention here today. The meetings will continue through Saturday.

Juniors Defeat Hillsboro, 32-7

Reno, Foster Chief Offensive Threats

Defeat was finally handed to Hillsboro footballers by Washington Thursday afternoon at Hillsboro, but it took Washington's Juniors boys to do the job.

And do it they did, 32-7, in a game filled with long runs and pass interceptions by the Washington gridiron.

An unhappy note was struck, however, when halfback David Reno, who sparked the Washington offense with gains of 30, 20 and 15 yards, was injured while running the ball in the second quarter. He was taken to Hillsboro Hospital where an examination revealed a slight concussion.

The game sends the Ohio Conference's two best ground-eaters at each other. Heidelberg's Walt Livingston is tops with 492 yards rushing in four games, but Denison's Marv Smith is right behind him with 461. For the season Denison has a 3-1 record, after losing 19-7 to Wooster last week.

Three of the five Washington touchdowns were scored by Aaron Foster at right half. Two of them were on fancy reverses in the third quarter. Foster sped around left end on the tricky play, once for 30 and once for 50 yards.

Gilbert Crouse blasted through the center of the line in the second quarter for the Junior High boys' third score of the game.

Actually, Sturdivant, who played at second base and third base in the Yankee farm system until 1952, was the only big league hurler to hit .300. He had 20 hits in 64 at bats while collecting five runs batted in and scoring five times.

Possessive were pulled on the unlucky Hillsboro boys twice by Chakeres and lineman Jerry Phillips.

On defense, two reserve ends,

Jerry Powell and Dan Williamson, turned in good performances.

Besides these boys, Carl Anders,

Dwight Brown, Crouse, Foster,

Chakeres, and Phillips all did excellent jobs stopping Hillsboro scoring attempts.

The lone Hillsboro score came in the fourth quarter on a long pass from quarterback to left half.

Blue Lions Invading Wilmington Tonight

The Washington Blue Lions go drills," said the coach. "There wasn't much joking or horsing around. They were just laughing and having a good time. They were sure of themselves. They knew their assignments and ran through them smoothly."

"Frankly, it mystified me," said Domenico.

THE BOYS knew what they were doing and did it well.

"We had to chase them out of the fieldhouse after practice to get them to go home," said Domenico.

Last week was just the opposite as they got ready for the Hillsboro game, he recalled.

"Last week perhaps we were overconcerned, put too much pressure on them."

The Thursday signal practice covered both offensive and defensive assignments. The Lions have been more concerned with defense than offense this week. They ran Hillsboro plays against the defense and drilled extensively.

The two teams have each won a league game — from Greenfield. Hillsboro has tied Circleville and the Lions dropped to Hillsboro last week.

THE GUARDS, tackles, center, halfbacks and fullback for the Hurricane are all seniors. Here's their line-up:

Ends, Roger Reedy and Mark Smith; tackles, Bob Webb and co-captain Eddie Hamilton; guards, Dave Mathews and Dan Inlow; center, Gene Bias; quarterback, Harold Fields; halfbacks, Harold Sims, Macey Cordell; fullback, Lyndell Suggs.

"These boys are rough," said Domenico. "We've got to hit 'em hard and pound them down into the turf."

The Lions will be on the field for a short warm-up at 7:00 p.m. and reappear for three minutes of drills just before the game starts.

OSU Still Ows Nittany Lions 9 Minutes

COLUMBUS (AP) — For 44 years Ohio State has owed Penn State something like nine minutes of football playing time.

It was back in 1912, at old Ohio Field, that the Nittany Lions and the Bucks met for the only time on the gridiron. They clash again Saturday, this time before some 82,000 in the big stadium.

There's still a lot of conversation about the game of 44 years ago. In the final quarter, with the Lions out by 37-0, Ohio State Coach Jack Richards, objecting to some rough play, called his charges from the field.

The game is carried in Penn State's records as a 37-0 victory; Ohio State calls it a 1-0 forfeit. Penn State that year was unbeaten and untied, outscoring the opposition 285 to 6, the latter points a Crimson touchdown.

Things are different now, and the chances are the Penn State team Saturday might be willing to call the game off nine minutes before the finish, since the Bucks are overwhelming favorites.

The Ohioans, riding a 14-game winning streak and going after their third straight Western Conference crown, probably will try to take the Lions in stride as a tuneup for the stretch drive against Wisconsin, Northwestern, Indiana, Iowa and Michigan—all league opponents.

Penn State, despite Ohio's top-flight record and talent-laden squad, has the tools to make it an interesting game. The Lions lost 14-7 to Army, but romped 34-0 over Pennsylvania and 43-0 over Holy Cross, rolling up 49 first downs while holding the foe to 17, of which Army garnered 12.

Single Wing Strategy Seen On Irish List

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP) — Coach Terry Brennan is herding his Notre Dame football players through practices behind closed doors and he may spring some single wing surprises against Michigan State Saturday.

The Irish find themselves underdogs for the first time in four years as they prepare for the No. 2 Spartans with the hopes they can sidetrack their third loss in four starts this season.

Several weeks ago Brennan indicated that he would like to use the single wing attack long with his T variations "to utilize fully the potential of quarterback Paul Hornung."

"But," added the young coach at that time, "we are so busy teaching the fundamentals of our regular T formation to our youngsters that we haven't the opportunity to try anything new. We're going to learn what we've got first."

In an effort to reavege against unbeaten MSU, conqueror of the Irish in four of their last five meetings, Brennan may feel the element of surprise is highly important. The single wing may be his answer.

Coach Duffy Daugherty, meanwhile, has warned his Spartans to expect Notre Dame to be sky high for the televised attraction.

"They'll be calling on the spirit of the Four Horsemen, George Gipp and Knute Rockne to help them win this one," said Daugherty.

Denison-Heidelberg Joust Gets Ohio Grid Spotlight

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Such colorful names as Navy, Quantico Marines, Penn State and North Carolina State—not to mention Slippery Rock—dot Ohio's college football slate for Saturday.

But the Denison-Heidelberg Ohio Conference scrap at Tiffin is grabbing its share of the spotlight.

The Student Princes are riding a 15-game winning streak—four this year—but they've never beaten the Big Red from Granville in 11 tries. They haven't met since 1938, but the Princes have a lot of ground to make up, for they're on the short end of a 200-37 scoring count against Denison.

The game sends the Ohio Conference's two best ground-eaters at each other. Heidelberg's Walt Livingston is tops with 492 yards rushing in four games, but Denison's Marv Smith is right behind him with 461. For the season Denison has a 3-1 record, after losing 19-7 to Wooster last week.

Other Ohio Conference games send Akron (0-3) against Capital (2-0), Hiram (0-1) against Oberlin (2-1), Mount Union (1-2) against Wittenberg (2-2), Wooster (2-1) against Muskingum (3-0), and Oberlin (0-1) against Ohio Wesleyan (1-2).

Only Western Michigan is idle in Mid-American Conference play, with Bowling Green (2-0) meeting Toledo (1-2), Miami (2-0) playing Ohio U. (0-2), and Kent State (1-1) visiting Marshall (1-1).

In the Mid-Ohio loop, Findlay (3-0) tangles with Ashland (1-1), Wilmington (2-1) and Ohio Northern and Deane, each 0-3, fight it out for last place. Case Tech, 6-0 loser to Wayne in a previous game, plays the same team in the second Presidents' Conference tilt for each.

All the other games are against out-of-state teams, with Penn

Ex-Akron Boy Due To Join Browns

CLEVELAND (AP) — A former Akron boy will be put on the Cleveland Browns' active list "as soon as he is ready," says Coach Paul Brown.

Art Hunter, a basketball star at Akron St. Vincent's High School before becoming a Notre Dame tackle, arrived here Thursday after being released from Army duty in Japan, where he played with an Army team.

He is the second player waiting to get on the club's active list. Halfback Skeets Quinlan, turned loose by the Los Angeles Rams, is studying Cleveland plays and is expected to join the team in time for next Sunday's game.

Wilbur Volz, Dartmouth backfield coach, was an 8th Air Force gunner during World War II.

In trimming North Texas State, 45-0, Mississippi failed to call on any of its punters.

Fire Destroys Truck, Load Of Furniture

'Police Lights' Were Flames, Driver Discovers

George Wilson Bragg of Sand Stone, W. Va., lost his household furniture and J. C. Honaker, also of Sand Stone, lost a 1955 two-ton Chevrolet truck when they were destroyed by fire on Route 35 near the Camp Grove Rd. intersection, about 4:30 a. m. Friday.

Sheriff Orland Hays, who spent nearly two hours directing traffic around the burning truck and furniture, reported a "total loss."

Otis Kincaid, 32, of Sand Stone, who was driving the truck, told Sheriff Hays the boy (unidentified) riding with him looked back and said he saw "the police blinking."

Kincaid said he stopped the truck, looked back and saw the flames in the furniture that had been mistaken for the blinking light of a police car.

Just who notified the Washington C. H. police department is not clear, but the police called Sheriff Hays who went to the scene.

The truck and its load of furniture were beyond saving, the sheriff said, so all he could do was direct traffic around them.

Kincaid was taking the furniture to Lebanon for Bragg, who was coming to Ohio to live, the sheriff said.

Money Box, $30 In Cash Stolen From Fixit Shop

Police today were investigating the theft of between $30 and $35 in cash from the Thornton Fixit Shop, 426 N. Fayette St., Thursday night.

Miss Eva Thornton reported Thursday morning that the till—a wooden money box about 20 by 20 inches square and 6 inches deep—had been torn from the counter, to which it was fastened with screws, and carried off.

Patrolman Virgil Harris, who investigated the report, later found the cash box at the north end of the street near the B&O Railroad. It had been smashed open and the money was gone, but the slips of paper that were kept there, as well as sales tax stamps, were found with the remains of the till.

Harris said no evidence of forcible entry of the shop could be found.

Good Hope Lions Meet Thursday

Dick Kellogg, of the Central Ohio Breeders Assn., showed slides and gave a talk on the artificial breeding of cattle at a supper meeting of the Good Hope Lions Club Thursday in the Wayne Township Hall.

Kellogg said artificial breeding began in Ohio in 1939 and has progressed to the point where 20 percent of all Ohio cattle are artificially bred.

A turkey dinner was served to the Lions by the ladies of Good Hope Methodist Church. Turkey dressing and pumpkin pie with whipped cream were features of the meal.

It was announced that the Lions Club board of directors will meet Tuesday in the Wayne Township Hall.

ONLY LAST week, the President had declared that he no longer would talk about the Stevenson proposals, but in Portland he said:

"I have not promised you — nor do I ever intend to — that the way to defend peace or freedom is to abandon simultaneously our military draft and testing of our most advanced military weapons, under the circumstances of today's world."

The Wilmington trip will be the second this week for the sharp-looking Washington band.

THE TEENAGERS joined in a gala ceremony at Circleville Wednesday evening kicking off that community's Pumpkin Show.

WHS Band To Repeat Parents' Night Show

The Washington High School Varsity Marching Band will repeat the Parents' Night program they presented at the St. Charles game three weeks ago when they appear in the half-time show at Wilmington Friday night.

The show kicks off with a salute to Wilmington and then the band swings into their Ma and Pa routine. Pa is a "Happy Wanderer" before he gets caught in the matrimonial web. Then the band plays "Love and Marriage," and Mother and Dad settle down to married life.

The Wilmington trip will be the second this week for the sharp-looking Washington band.

Fire Destroys Truck, Load Of Furniture

'Police Lights' Were Flames, Driver Discovers

George Wilson Bragg of Sand Stone, W. Va., lost his household furniture and J. C. Honaker, also of Sand Stone, lost a 1955 two-ton Chevrolet truck when they were destroyed by fire on Route 35 near the Camp Grove Rd. intersection, about 4:30 a. m. Friday.

Sheriff Orland Hays, who spent nearly two hours directing traffic around the burning truck and furniture, reported a "total loss."

Otis Kincaid, 32, of Sand Stone, who was driving the truck, told Sheriff Hays the boy (unidentified) riding with him looked back and said he saw "the police blinking." Kincaid said he stopped the truck, looked back and saw the flames in the furniture that had been mistaken for the blinking light of a police car.

Just who notified the Washington C. H. police department is not clear, but the police called Sheriff Hays who went to the scene.

The truck and its load of furniture were beyond saving, the sheriff said, so all he could do was direct traffic around them.

Kincaid was taking the furniture to Lebanon for Bragg, who was coming to Ohio to live, the sheriff said.

He said that in the field of foreign affairs the voters have a choice between "hard sense and experience versus pie-in-the-sky promises and wishful thinking."

Slapping indirectly in that case against the Stevenson draft and H-bomb stand, he said:

"Thrice in my lifetime, we have seen our country at war. Why? Because we were too weak for the circumstances of the time."

"We shall not be at again. We must not be again."

He said in the foreign affairs field "the problem of decision" boils down to this:

"Do we pursue our objective from a position of strength, dealing with others on a perfectly fair, equitable basis, always holding out the hand of friendship but saying, 'If you don't want to be friends, we will be the strongest nation in the world?'

Leaf-Burning Harms City Street Surfaces

It's that time of year again—the time for raking up and disposing of leaves. And with it comes worry for city officials.

City Manager James F. Parkinson said Friday morning he hopes Washington C. H. residents will be careful about where they burn leaves—if they feel they must burn them.

Parkinson pointed out that the city now is nearing completion of its 4½-mile, $50,000 street-resurfacing program and that burning leaves on any asphaltic street can be disastrous to the surface.

The people have a big investment in the city street system, the city manager said and added
